

Located in southeast Coweta County, Rolling Meadows showcases a strong sense of conservation through stewardship. Shoal Creek flows freely through the mature forests and open meadows. The property borders Line Creek as it flows towards Fayette County.

Flint Riverkeeper is honored by the Candler and Marchman families' invitation to host our annual dinner auction event at the historic Rolling Meadows Farm barn atop a hill overlooking Lake McIntosh. Featuring a catered dinner, open bar, live music, silent and live auctions, raffle for a NuCanoe FLINT kayak, tours and stories of the property, and fellowship with other Flint River friends.

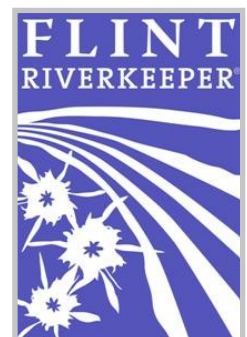

All proceeds from the event benefit Flint Riverkeeper's program work to protect and restore the Flint River watershed.

Sponsorships of this well-attended event are a large part of the continued success. This year marks the 8th annual Flint Riverkeeper dinner event. Each year, the location has been within the Flint watershed at stunning private property showcasing the river and natural history of the area.

You or your company can be a part of this distinctive event celebrating the beauty of the Flint River and the work of Flint Riverkeeper by sponsoring this year's event at Rolling Meadows Farm. All donations are tax-deductible and sponsorship incentives are listed on the back page.

Flint Riverkeeper appreciates your support and encourages your donation!
